Carolee Lindsey, CPA

Partner

“Collaborating and communicating with clients about their plans and successes is a very rewarding part of this profession.”

Carolee’s client base includes privately-held companies in primarily the construction, manufacturing, technology, professional services, and non-profit industries. She specializes in audits, reviews, tax returns and business advisory projects.

She commits the same ambition to the accounting profession as a business owner would to their business. Carolee serves on numerous MNCPA committees and non-profit Boards of Directors. She performs Peer Review engagements for other CPA firms and understands the importance of practice standards and quality control.

Carolee merged her practice into CK&Co. in December 2011. Her diverse professional career includes Partner in a CPA practice, VP of Finance for a global expedition company, and Audit Services Manager at both Arthur Andersen LLP and Ernst & Young LLP.

Carolee spends her free time discussing investment strategies, reading books, listening to music and playing golf.
