“I enjoy working with our clients and our people, building long-term relationships far beyond the office walls.”

Jeff concentrates in the tax services, including the areas of real estate, financial planning, retirement plans and fringe benefits. Throughout his 35-year career, he has served on committees for numerous organizations. As the firm’s Administrative Partner, Jeff manages the firm’s personnel and growth strategies.

The accounting regulations and codes are a perfect match for Jeff. The combination of his big-picture planning skills, coupled with his curiosity for details, allow him to handle a variety of accounting challenges.

With his knack for remembering details, both numbers and people, it is evident why Jeff has built client relationships lasting nearly 35 years.

Jeff loves anything that offers a mental challenge... sports, games, puzzles, mysteries, all of the above. Additionally, he loves spending time with his family, especially the grandkids.
